

Before the Cabinet meeting at Inverness on the Irish situation the British Prime Minister had a conference with the King at Moy Hall, Scotland. The photograph shows King George, the Premier and the Mackintosh of Mackintosh.

Central News

Secretary of State Hughes has taken up the statesmen's sport and is among the distinguished Washingtonians who play golf whenever their official duties permit. (c) Harris & Ewing.

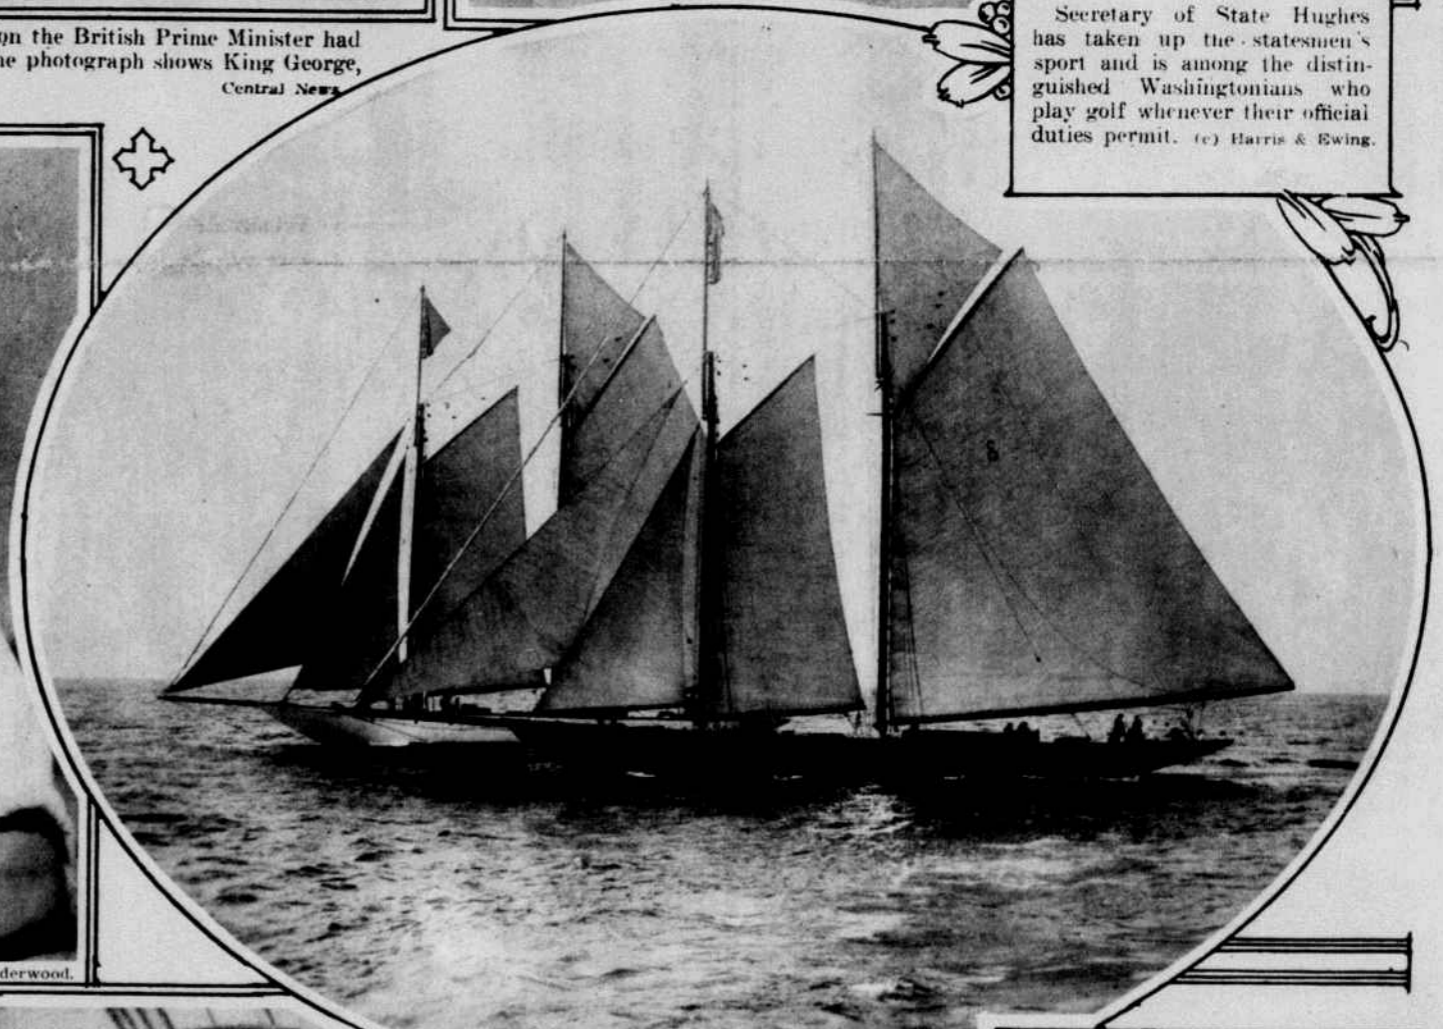

Michael Collins, the Sinn Fein Minister of Finance, speaking at Armagh. He told his hearers that the northern Parliament had no existence in fact but was merely a pretext for keeping Ireland asunder.

Daily Mirror.

Underwood & Underwood.

World's Champion William T. Tilden, Jr., photographed after he had defeated Wallace F. Johnson in the final round of the national singles tennis championship at the Germantown Cricket Club.

Vagrant, owned by Harold Vanderbilt, leading Sonnica, owned by Horatio Shonard, across the starting line in the race for the Cape May Cup. Sonnica was the winner.

Edwin Levick.

New York police frustrated an attempt by Urbain Ledoux to hold in Bryant Park an "auction" of unemployed similar to the one in Boston. The picture shows the dispersal of the crowd.

International.

Prince Paul Salvador of the royal house of Poland, who says he is roaming the world in the cause of Polish independence, has a job at present as interpreter in the steerage of the White Star liner Haverford. He is talking to a steerage passenger.

(c) Keystone View Co.

Holm O. Bursum of Socorro was the Republican candidate for United States Senate to succeed Albert B. Fall, now Secretary of the Interior.

C. P. Anderson.

The Democratic candidate in the New Mexico Senatorial election was Richard H. Hanna, who had previously served eight years as Justice of the State Supreme Court.

C. P. Anderson.